

1

Every school and college should have an embedded programme of career education and guidance that is known and understood by students, parents, teachers and employers

Homepage

2

Every student and their parents should have access to good quality information about future study options and labour market opportunities. They will need the support of an informed advisor to make best use of available information

Homepage

3

Students have different career guidance needs at different stages. Opportunities for advice and support need to be tailored to the needs of each Student. A school's careers programme should embed equality and diversity considerations through out

Homepage

4

All teachers should link curriculum learning to careers.

For example STEM, subject teachers should highlight the relevance of STEM subjects for a wide range of future career paths.

Homepage

5

Every student should have multiple opportunities to learn from employers about work, employment and the skills that are valued in the workplace.

This can be through a range of enrichment activities including visiting speakers, mentoring and enterprise schemes.

Homepage

6

Every student should have first hand experience of the workplace through work visits, work shadowing, work experience to help with their application of career opportunities and expand their networks.

Homepage

7

All students should understand the full range of learning opportunities that are available to them.

This includes both academic and vocational routes and learning in schools, colleges, universities and in the workplace

Homepage

8

Every Student should have opportunities for guidance interviews with a careers adviser who could be internal or external provided they are train to an appropriate level. These should be available whenever significant study or career choices are being made. They should be expected for all students but should be timed to meet their individual needs.

Homepage